07/04/2016 After the season-opening races at Daytona and Sebring, North America's most popular sports car championship IMSA SportsCar Championship contests round three in "America's Monaco", California.

With a duration of just 1:40 hours, this is the shortest race on the series' calendar. On the challenging, completely walled and fenced street circuit in the harbour area, the Porsche North America factory squad will again campaign two 470 hp Porsche 911 RSR in the hotly-contested GTLM class.
