

The Porsche Museum reopens on 1 June

This article reflects the status at the time of its publication. The content may since have become outdated.

27/05/2021 In line with the Coronavirus Ordinance of the State of Baden-Württemberg issued on 14 May 2021, the Porsche Museum will reopen on Tuesday, 1 June 2021.

In addition to the comprehensive hygiene concept already in place, all visitors from the age of 6 are required to provide a negative coronavirus test (24-hour validity), confirmation of recovery or official proof of vaccination. If proof of recovery or vaccination cannot be provided, a coronavirus test must be carried out prior to the start of the museum visit. A public testing station has been set up on the museum forecourt which is open between 8:30 am and 6:30 pm from Tuesday to Sunday.

It is mandatory for all visitors aged 6 and older to wear an FFP2 or medical mask throughout the museum building. If the incidence level drops below 50, these conditions no longer apply to museum visits. If the incidence rises above 100, the museum must close again as required by federal emergency measures. You can view the current incidence for the city of Stuttgart here.

The Porsche Museum is open between 9 am and 6 pm from Tuesday to Sunday. On the website www.porsche.com/Museum, the museum provides information on the current opening status along with details of measures as applicable, which are fully aligned with official requirements. We regret that guided tours of the factory and the museum cannot be offered until further notice. Details of the successive start-up of visitor programmes are also available on the Porsche Museum website.

Museum gastronomy
