

Circular Economy as an Opportunity for Resilient Supply Chains

14/10/2024 How companies can reduce their dependency on raw materials and build sustainable supply chains.

In today's fast-paced world, the fragility of global supply chains is becoming increasingly evident. Technological innovations, growing regulatory requirements, and the pressure to operate more sustainably pose significant challenges for businesses. In light of these challenges, Circular Republic, in collaboration with Porsche Consulting, Allianz, and Agora Strategy, has written a white paper that highlights key aspects of the circular economy and presents tangible solutions for companies to prepare for the future.

Read the white paper in full length: The Business Case for a Circular Economy.
