

Four Grand Slam winners at the 2024 Porsche Tennis Grand Prix

08/01/2024 A world class field is set to contest the 2024 Porsche Tennis Grand Prix as four Grand Slam champions – title-holder Iga Swiatek, Angelique Kerber, Emma Raducanu and Aryna Sabalenka – have already entered the long-standing Stuttgart tournament due to take place in the Porsche Arena from 13 to 21 April.

Tournament Director Markus Günthardt enjoyed a belated Christmas present when the four top players confirmed they would be appearing at the 47th edition of the Porsche Tennis Grand Prix. "It's fantastic that four top world stars have already committed themselves to coming," said the delighted Swiss together with his Operating Tournament Director, Anke Huber. "It's a big compliment and a real sign of their confidence in the tournament."

Iga Swiatek

The quartet set to appear at the WTA 500 event, a multiple award winner, in Stuttgart's Porsche Arena has amassed a total of nine Grand Slam wins. “Porsche Friend” Iga Swiatek has won the most titles after triumphing at the French Open (2020, 2022, 2023) and the US Open (2022). She was also last year’s most successful player. After winning in Doha, Stuttgart, Paris, Warsaw and Beijing, the world No. 1 crowned her record season by claiming the WTA Finals title. Her start to the new season was also perfect as she won all her five singles matches at the United Cup, the prestigious team competition in the run-up to the Australian Open. Surfing a wave of success, the 2022 and 2023 Porsche Tennis Grand Prix winner is seeking new challenges. Winning a third consecutive title on her return to Stuttgart is one of them.

Angelique Kerber

Angelique Kerber won the 2016 Australian Open, the 2016 US Open and Wimbledon in 2018. The Porsche Tennis Grand Prix, where she was victorious in 2015 and 2016, will be the 35-year-old German's first tournament on home soil since giving birth to her daughter Liana. “I’ve missed the tournament and the fabulous crowd in the Porsche Arena,” says the Porsche Brand Ambassador before continuing, “I’m looking all the more forward to competing there again.” Her comeback after maternity leave was crowned with success as she was a member of the German team that won the United Cup in Sydney.

Emma Raducanu

Winning the 2021 US Open made Emma Raducanu (21) a world star. After a long injury lay-off that included three surgical procedures, the Porsche Brand Ambassador enjoyed a successful comeback last week when winning her opening match at the ASB Classic in Auckland/New Zealand. Alongside her home tournament in Wimbledon, she is really looking forward to the Porsche Tennis Grand Prix as “there’s after all a Porsche to be won there. It’s got the best prize out there on tour”.

Aryna Sabalenka

Aryna Sabalenka (25) is also taken by the main prize for the winner. The world No. 2 and reigning Australia Open champion was the Stuttgart runner-up in the past three years. When departing last year, she left everybody in no doubt about her intention to make a fourth attempt to secure the prestigious title: “I really want to win the car.”

A colourful programme of side events

In addition to world class tennis, one of the WTA’s most prestigious indoor tournaments for years now will serve up an incredible live atmosphere in Stuttgart’s so-called “Hallenduo” consisting of the Porsche Arena and the Hanns Martin Schleyer Halle. A colourful programme of side events makes the Porsche Tennis Grand Prix an event for the whole family.

Porsche in Tennis

The Porsche Tennis Grand Prix is the flagship of Porsche's worldwide involvement in women's tennis. First played in Filderstadt in 1978, the long-standing Stuttgart tournament has been held in the city's Porsche Arena since 2006. It stands for tradition and innovation, as does the Porsche brand. As the most loyal sponsor of women's international tennis, Porsche has accompanied the WTA's oldest indoor event right from the start. Together with its subsidiaries, the sports car manufacturer was last year the automotive partner of the WTA tournaments in Linz (Austria), Bad Homburg (Germany), Bastad (Sweden), Cincinnati (USA) and Cluj-Napoca (Romania). Angelique Kerber and Emma Raducanu give Porsche a face in tennis as Brand Ambassadors. Jule Niemeier, Maria Sakkari, Karolina Muchova, Anett Kontaveit and Iga Swiatek are additionally "Friends of the Brand" in their home countries. As a premium partner of the "Deutsche Tennis Bund" (DTB – German Tennis Association), the company has been supporting Porsche Team Germany in the Billie Jean King Cup since 2012 and fosters up-and-coming players in the Porsche Talent Team and the Porsche Junior Team.
