

Porsche exceeds 200,000 mark of deliveries

09/12/2015 Porsche has delivered 209,894 cars worldwide from January to November 2015. This corresponds to a 24 per cent increase in comparison to the same period in 2014.

Thus, for the first time in the history of the company, Porsche has handed over to customers more than 200,000 vehicles. As early as last year, the Stuttgart-based sports car maker had set a record with a total of 189,849 deliveries the world over.

“With more than 200,000 Porsche models delivered, we have reached a milestone of our strategy 2018 well ahead of schedule”, underscores Detlev von Platen, Member of the Executive Board – Sales and Marketing of Porsche AG, thanking the employees: “Porsche employees worldwide have joined forces to contribute to making this success possible. With our future-oriented products, our motivated staff and our powerful sales partners the world over, we are clearly well positioned for the future.”

In November, Porsche delivered a total of 18,110 new cars. The Cayenne is the clear growth driver here: with 6,579 vehicles delivered in November 2015, the delivery volumes rose 39 per cent compared to the same period last year. The Cayenne has also been a best seller in the period of January to November 2015. 68,029 models (a rise of 14 per cent) were handed over to customers all over the world.

The strongest single market during the period of January to November 2015 was China: Porsche delivered 54,302 cars there. This corresponds to an increase of 34 per cent. Right behind it was the United States, with 47,819 vehicles delivered (a 9 per cent increase). The European market grew by 30 per cent to 70,509 units sold.
