

Porsche Vietnam reignites motorsport passion with the return of GT models

10/03/2026 After a short hiatus, high-performance GT models return to Vietnam. Porsche Vietnam organised an exclusive GT and limited edition Porsche model gathering to celebrate occasion.

Porsche Vietnam marks a new chapter with the return of its high-performance GT models and exclusive limited editions after a pause since 2020. These models embody the perfect harmony of form and function – timeless design fused with precision German engineering. Their comeback has been enabled by the easing of ground-clearance regulations and the rapid development of Vietnam's road infrastructure - reopening new possibilities for the country's most passionate sports car enthusiasts.

Celebrating iconic performance

As Porsche Motorsport approaches its 75th anniversary in 2026, an exclusive GT gathering took place at Porsche Vietnam, honouring the brand's motorsport heritage and the continuous innovation that defines its high-performance sports cars.

At the heart of the gathering stood the latest 911 GT3 RS, delivering race-bred aerodynamics, 525 PS, and a blistering 0 - 100 km/h time of just 3.2 seconds. The new 911 GT3 Touring (992.2) offers a more discreet, yet equally focused interpretation of performance, combining refined styling with lightweight engineering and cutting-edge HD Matrix LED headlights.

Heritage meets individuality

Beyond performance, personalisation remains a defining element of Porsche ownership. A highlight among limited editions was the 911 Spirit 70, finished in Olive Neo and Peridot Metallic - an evocative tribute to 1970s design fused with a new and innovative T-Hybrid system.

The collection also features an extraordinary line-up including the 918 Spyder, 911 Dakar, 911 Turbo 50 Years, 911 GT2 RS, and other rare icons - each reflecting the diversity, craftsmanship, and individuality that define the Porsche brand.

Driven by the community

The global Porsche community is the beating heart of the brand. Events such as Rennsport Reunion, where more than 90,000 fans gather to celebrate motorsport heritage, demonstrate the power of shared passion. With the return of GT models, Porsche Vietnam deepens this connection, reinforcing its dedication to emotionally engaging sports cars, premium retail standards, and benchmark after-sales services.

"We are proud to grow alongside one of the most enthusiastic sports car communities in the region," said Mr. Andreas Klingler, General Director of Porsche Vietnam. "The passion for our GT models inspires us to create exceptional experiences and to further shape a vibrant sports car culture in Vietnam."

MEDIA
ENQUIRIES

Brendan Mok

Head of PR & Communications – Porsche Asia Pacific
brendan.mok@porsche-ap.com

Link Collection

Link to this article

https://newsroom.porsche.com/en_SG/2026/products/GT-models-return-to-Vietnam-42104.html

Media Package

<https://pmdb.porsche.de/newsroomzips/83520ae1-358c-4b4a-be2b-9dc0cf18ce8b.zip>

External Links

https://www.porsche.com/pap/_vietnam_/

<https://racing.porsche.com/>

<https://newsroom.porsche.com/en/products/porsche-individualisation.html>