

Agora Strategy Group and Porsche Consulting are joining forces in a global partnership

22/04/2024 Supporting their global customer base by integrating geopolitical developments into strategic executive consulting.

Agora Strategy and Porsche Consulting have signed an exclusive strategic partnership. This partnership will enable both companies to help clients accelerating their business transformations in the face of growing geopolitical complexity. Agora Strategy offers a deep know-how in geopolitical risk advisory, based on a global network of more than 300 internationally distinguished experts in politics, business, diplomacy and defense. Porsche Consulting delivers the strategic management perspective based on cutting edge technology know-how and industry insights. Together, this creates a unique new consulting approach to strengthen the resilience and transformational change of their clients.

Eberhard Weiblen, Chairman of the Executive Board of Porsche Consulting: „The impact of geopolitical factors on the business of our clients has increased dramatically over the last decade. We therefore have to adapt our strategic advice to them. This partnership will enable us to add geopolitical perspectives into corporate strategy and to find feasible answers to the most important questions of our clients."

Dr. Timo Blenk, Partner CEO of Agora Strategy Group AG: „By combining excellent strategic advice with in-depth geopolitical skills we will offer a better guidance for our clients in times of higher geopolitical uncertainty. Together we can minimize negative effects on their businesses and strengthen their resilience against growing risks by delivering practical solutions."

The two companies join forces to deliver added value to their clients but will stay independent and open minded to continuously develop their expertise
