12/02/2016 At the end of January, Angelique Kerber celebrated her first Grand Slam success. She will also be defending her title at the Porsche Tennis Grand Prix in April and has already tried out the seat of this year's winner's car: a 718 Boxster S.

Angelique Kerber can look back at successful but very exhausting weeks. After her win in the Australian Open, she competed in the Fed Cup with the Porsche Team Germany. But before she went on to enjoy a well-earned holiday, she traded off her tennis dress against a Porsche Design Woman outfit – and came by the Porsche plant in Leipzig for a photoshooting. "A welcome change" for the Porsche brand ambassador.

See for yourself how the session went in this video.

Let's see in April whether Angelique Kerber will be sitting more often at the wheel of the 718 Boxster S – the roadster is part of the winner's prize for the Porsche Tennis Grand Prix which takes place from

April 16 to 24. Competing for the prize are seven players from the top 10 of the women's WTA world ranking: Maria Sharapova, Simona Halep, Agnieszka Radwanska, Garbine Muguruza, Petra Kvitova, Lucie Safarova, – and of course Angelique Kerber.
