

Test driving the new Porsche models

This article reflects the status at the time of its publication. The content may since have become outdated.

10/02/2017 The Porsche family continues to grow, with the addition of five 911 GTS models and two variants of the Panamera. International journalists have already had the chance to take them for a test drive in South Africa.

Everyone is talking about hybrid vehicles – but what are they like to drive? Are they noticeably different from vehicles with a combustion engine? And can a hybrid really be called a true Porsche? Media representatives tested the Panamera 4 E-Hybrid in South Africa – and as this video shows, they discovered the answers to these questions.

In addition to the Gran Turismo, Porsche also brought the new 911 GTS models. In the video, August Achleitner, Vice President Product Line Sports Cars, explains the technical changes that have been made since the last generation.
