08/07/2018 Porsche concluded round six of the IMSA SportsCar Championship in Bowmanville/Canada on positions four and six after a long time in the lead.

One highlight follows the other in the IMSA SportsCar Championship: Just a week after the six-hour classic at Watkins Glen, North America's premier sports car race series makes its traditional detour over the border for Canada's one and only round of the season contested on 8 July at the Canadian Tire Motorsport Park. The Porsche GT Team fields two 911 RSR in the GTLM class on the very fast and demanding course close to Bowmanville. This category, in which four automobile manufacturers compete, is known to be particularly tough and is packed with suspense from start to finish. Porsche's customer team Wright Motorsports runs two 911 GT3 R racers in the GTD class.
